An Artesian Well

This beautiful ice palace, located north of Sanford, is a typical winter scene of the San Luis Valley.

The Trail to Success

The students of the Sanford High School wend their way along the steep and difficult "Trail to Success". The seniors, who have reached the highest level, look back on successfully completed courses, State Championship, District Championships, lovely promenades, interesting stage productions, and many other memorable events. The most priceless joy of all was the association with one another. The other classes, who have reached varying levels, will continue the climb along this path.

Campus

This campus will always be an inspiration to the students of Sanford High as they recall the pleasant hours spent there and the sacrifices made by their forefathers in the construction of the buildings.

Administration

The board members and the faculty were instrumental in assisting the students as they journeyed up the "Trail to Success".
